Welcome to summer! It is the most exciting time of year, even though there are many more tasks and chores to do, it is so worth our time. The rains have been much appreciated by trees needing that deep root watering. They all look so happy in the rain. Lawns are lush and green. The birds, pelicans and geese are back for the season careful to parade their new family members. Nature is truly amazing. We are so fortunate to view the beauty of nature at its finest. We are completely thrilled with all of the new flowers and perennials the garden has to offer. It requires very little maintenance yet produces such beauty. The garden is our peaceful place. Everyone should have a peaceful place. What is yours?

Jake and Paige are both looking forward to summer. Paige completed another season of dance and we attended year end celebrations. We must admit that be it hockey or dancing...the end of the season is sad for us. It is also a great time to reflect on the past and make plans for the future.

OUR JOURNEY

The journey for us continues each day, each month, and each year. The path we take must continue to be filled with challenges that enable us to draw strength and test our true capabilities. Only when we are truly challenged are we able to demonstrate our finest strengths. If we back down from a challenge or deny existence than we cheat ourselves. On a personal or professional level just believe that when you have accomplished this challenge you will be a better person and will have a greater knowledge of your inner power. The truth is that our life will always have challenges both good and bad...how one tackles a situation can have astounding results favorably or unfavorably.

EDUCATION

Consider taking a look at the way you handle situations. Ask yourself some questions. Do I tackle all situations in a similar manner? Am I proactive or reactive? Do I have team members in place that can assist me? What outcome do I expect? Will the outcome be favorable or unfavorable? What changes am I able to make in order to make this a favorable outcome? This is where education about who we are and how we act or react to a situation becomes very important. Make sure that you always have a team in place both professionally and personally. The personal support we have should be those closest to you who know what your expectations are. Make sure you completely trust in yourself and your abilities. Make sure those around you are also trustworthy and achieving individuals themselves. Try to eliminate energy to those who may be negative in nature and tend to bring you down. Positive, positive, positive, that is the only way to achieving success. Remember your thoughts become your reality!!
